

Student Protocols for Returning to Campus

Morningside is moving forward with offering in-person classes this fall. This document provides you with high-level information regarding how we intend to keep you as safe as possible during the COVID-19 pandemic while providing you with the best on-campus experience possible. When we open, you can be confident that we will be regularly evaluating circumstances, cleaning and disinfecting as frequently as possible, providing you with regular communication, and more. We also want to underscore that we know that COVID-19 is present in Woodbury County and will likely be present in our campus community. Following the guidance in the document is the best way to protect yourself while on campus.

Individuals interested can see more detailed operating guidelines here. Please note that the situation around COVID-19 changes almost daily. As such, we expect these guidelines to change and evolve as the semester progresses. For all the latest, please visit the COVID-19 page at morningside.edu.

OPERATION GUIDELINES

Morningside has developed guidelines and processes for four different levels of operation. It is possible that different areas of the campus will be at different levels, depending on circumstances. Beginning Monday, Aug. 10, the COVID-19 page will be updated regularly to identify the current operating level(s).

GREEN

All normal operations have resumed with exceptions for high-risk individuals.

YELLOW

Risk is considered low to moderate for all but high-risk individuals. Learning and working will take place primarily in-person, with some guidelines in place to limit contact and large group gatherings.

ORANGE

Risk is considered moderate to elevated for all but high-risk individuals. Students and employees are present on campus, but will utilize more options to learn and work remotely or to limit in-person contact.

RED

Risk is high for everyone. Most or all students and employees will utilize remote working and learning options. Campus is following directives from state and national authorities.

FACTORS THAT MAY TRIGGER A CHANGE IN OPERATING LEVEL INCLUDE:

- An increase or decrease in active COVID-19 cases on-campus.
- An increase or decrease in active COVID-19 cases in Woodbury County.
- Changes to local health care capacity.
- Changes to staffing capacity or availability of necessary supplies on campus.
- Changes to the availability of COVID-19 testing.
- The availability of new treatment or immunization options.
- Recommendations from local, state, or national officials.

OPERATION GUIDELINES

- A weekly email will be distributed acknowledging the current operation level and highlighting important information. It is your responsibility to read and follow the information outlined in this email. The first email will be distributed Sunday, Aug. 16.
- The COVID-19 page on morningside.edu will be regularly updated to provide the latest available information. This is your best resource for information.

ACADEMIC CALENDAR & CLASSES

- Morningside has adjusted its academic calendar for the 2020-2021 academic year. Classes are beginning one week earlier than scheduled and all breaks have been eliminated. These changes will allow all in-person learning to be completed by Thanksgiving break, and finals will be completed online the week following so that students can remain at their permanent residence for winter break.
- Faculty are preparing to begin coursework in-person. Students with medical or administrative exemptions from in-person learning will have options to complete coursework remotely. Additionally, faculty are prepared to offer courses in hybrid or remote formats if a change in operating level necessitates it.
- Students who become ill or are isolating or quarantining due to potential exposure to COVID-19 should work with their faculty to make plans for continuing coursework.
- Students who require medical or other accommodations should contact Disability Services to initiate the process.

COVID-19 POLICY CHANGES

Morningside has adjusted, added, and modified a number of policies in light of COVID-19. Please review the COVID-19 Policy Updates section of the 2020-2021 Course Catalog, the website, or the student handbook for this information.
